

No. 41 Shop, 308 Warrenheip Street.

An isolated and small, single storey commercial building which retains its shopfront form largely intact. A wide verandah lines the street facade and a stepped parapet features above.

No. 43 Masonic Hall, 604 Warrenheip Street.

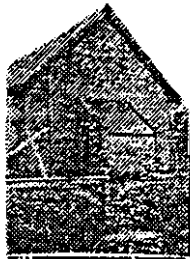

In 1929 the architects Clegg, Morrow and Cameron were commissioned to execute designs for additions and alterations to this building.

The main facade differs slightly from that proposed as two similar gable ended sections were intended. The openings however were omitted from the southern section. The resulting red brick building is simple and unpretentious in appearance.

No. 45 Holy Trinity Anglican Church and School, 702 - 8 Warrenheip Street.

The Anglican Church School was established in this brick building in 1857. Later in 1861 the foundation stone for the church was laid, and the building commenced operation in 1862. The site of the Anglican Church of England was permanently reserved in 1867.

The church is constructed of locally quarried stone with a slate roof. The rectangular plan is typical of provincial church buildings with a projecting porch to the front facade. A squat belltower incorporates timber ventilators. An early photograph shows a picket fence once surrounded the property, with notable gate posts and finials.
