Statement of Significance

National Estate Register:

The former Meredith Shire Hall is a characteristic work of architect Alexander Davidson in the favoured Victorian eclectic mode. The Shire of Meredith united with the Shire of Bannockburn in 1915 and the municipal offices were transferred to Bannockburn. The facade is a distinctive combination of basalt and Waurin Ponds limestone in a relatively restrained and disciplined axial composition. The structure has interesting associations with local government in the Meredith district.

(The Commission is in the process of developing and/or upgrading official statements for places listed prior to 1991. The above data was mainly provided by the nominator and has not yet been revised by the Commission.)
