| History:  | The 1855 plan shows this as a house set back from Moreland Street on lot 6 Section V Township of Footscray. Owned by Joseph Irvine. Possibly shown in 1864 but definitely not there on the 1877 map. There is a building on the site on the 1895 MMBW plans but the block is shown as vacant on the 1910 plan. Stylistically the current building is 1920's in origin. |                       |                        |                   |  |

| Description   | The current building on the site is a domestic dwelling and it seems likely that some archaeological remains will exist under this building.   |                       |                        |                   |  |
